About Ed

Originally from Philadelphia and currently residing in Central Florida, Ed is an avid NFL Eagles fan and works as the Rides Maintenance Supervisor at a theme park in Winter Haven, FL, showcasing his passion for puzzles and mechanics. At 42, happily married, Ed faces the challenge of dealing with an aggressive genetic form of Polycystic Kidney Disease (PKD), a condition that also affects his entire immediate family.

WHAT IS PKD?

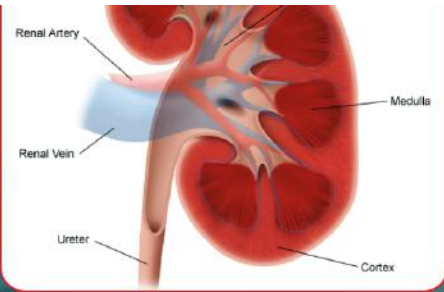

If you have Polycystic Kidney Disease, please know you are not alone. Polycystic kidney disease (PKD) is one of the most common, life-threatening genetic diseases, affecting thousands in America and millions worldwide.

This site is dedicated not only to Ed and assisting him in finding a living kidney donor, but also to the many others who are also seeking living kidney donations. We hope you can find solace in the information provided in the Potential Donor Section. If you have any questions about any of the information listed on our website, please contact us.
